"My new ramp has been a blessing to me and my family as they have had to lift me up and down the steps. May God bless the Chesapeake Housing Mission for all of their hard work and dedication in helping so many people to feel safe and secure as they go about their day to day life."

about us.

Chesapeake Housing Mission is a non-profit 501(c)(3) charitable Christian Mission that provides critical home repair and constructs wheelchair ramps for low-income families in Maryland's Dorchester, Somerset, Wicomico, and Worcester Counties.

We believe that we are called to help one another and have successfully helped hundreds of families through volunteerism and donations.

what to expect.

Many of our projects are performed by volunteer teams that have pledged to give a day to help their neighbors.

We offer a wide variety of basic construction and home repair services that compliment the skill sets of our volunteers.

Teams come to us from businesses, schools, churches, government offices, and other organizations. Our volunteers have varying skill levels and teams may be comprised of adults and/or youth. All volunteer training is provided on the day of the project.

The demand for our services is rapidly increasing due to the growing aging population and the number of those in need. We typically have over 35 on our wait list at any given time and it may take weeks to months before we are able to address the client's project.

We meet with our referring agencies monthly to prioritize and make certain that the most critical clients are serviced first. When a client's case is prioritized, we will visit them to assess the scope of the project.

30 days prior to the project start date, the agency case manager will contact the client. Until then,we always tell our clients to know that we have not forgotten about them. All questions the client may have about the project should be directed to their case manager.
