

"When the volunteers asked me to come out to see the end result, I could see the love they placed in the ramp and I knew that I was blessed. My mobility is 101% better!"

about us.

Founded in 2009, Chesapeake Housing Mission is a non-profit 501(c)(3) charitable Christian Mission that provides critical home repair and wheelchair ramp construction for low-income families in Maryland's Dorchester, Somerset, Wicomico, and Worcester Counties.

We believe that we are called to help one another and have successfully helped hundreds of families through volunteerism and donations.

1. have an open heart

Have an open heart, a willingness to help others, and compassion for your neighbors without judgement. No construction experience required!

2. pick a team leader

Pick a Volunteer Leader for your team. The Volunteer Leader organizes the team and works directly with CHM to coordinate the project.

3. get a team together

Find a group of like-minded volunteers to form a team. Wheelchair ramps take approximately 15 volunteers but there may be other projects for smaller teams.

4. you get to pick the date

Contact us with your preferred project date and a rain date. Projects are typically completed in a single day!

5. have a project manager?

Let us know if anyone on your team has construction experience and is willing to lead the project. If not, we will assign a Project Manager for you.

our clients.

The demand for our services is rapidly increasing due to the growing aging population and the number in need. Our clients are vetted and referred to us by local agencies. We meet with these agencies monthly to prioritize and make certain that the most critical clients are serviced first.

We will try and accommodate any requests, such as type of project or location, but sometimes this isn't possible. We ask that you be flexible so that we are able to service those with greatest need.
